

Pre-Flight Spring 2025

Detachment 810 | Baylor University

January 16, 2025

Integrity First
Service Before Self
Excellence In All We Do

Incoming Cadets,

Welcome to Baylor University and Detachment 810! We are very excited to welcome you into our family. At Det 810, we take pride in our hard-working cadets who are constantly trying to improve and grow. During your time here as a student and cadet, you will create amazing friendships and connections with others that will sustain and build you in both your personal and professional lives.

Becoming an Air Force Officer is a noble journey that few embark upon. Officers are expected to be competent and confident leaders who can be trusted with commanding people and equipment and living out the Air Force's core values to the fullest.

Air Force ROTC is built to prepare you to serve as an Officer in the greatest Air Force in the world. This program is built to be challenging, yet rewarding, with the intent of developing your character and leadership.

Pre-Flight is designed to be an orientation for you as you start here in ROTC, so you are encouraged to participate as much as you're able to. Because you all are joining a semester later than usual, as 150s, there will be a little bit of catching up that will need to take place, but this isn't anything to worry about. We have an amazing team here, and your new wingmen will help get you up to speed with everything you need to know.

We are excited to get to know every one of you!

Very Respectfully,
Cadet Mason Caldwell

Questions Regarding Attendance

Who is meant to attend Pre-Flight?

- If you plan to join the AFROTC program at Detachment 810 here at Baylor, Pre-flight is for you.

Is Pre-Flight required to attend?

- No, but it is highly recommended. It is a great opportunity to fast-track meeting your peers and get to know them and the program before it starts. It is also helpful for completing the necessary paperwork to be a part of the AFROTC program.

Do I have to be present for all of Pre-Flight, should I choose to attend?

- Pre-Flight is designed for your benefit and success as a cadet, however, we understand everyone has different schedules, so if you need to miss a portion of it, that's alright.
